

Day 5: Four parts: SATB ranges, spacing and doubling

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

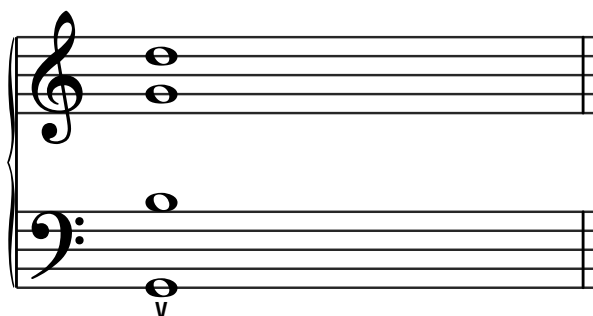

Say: "Think of four singers. Each has a comfortable range, they stand close together at the top, and in a root-position chord two of them sing the root."

- Four-part harmony is written for soprano, alto, tenor and bass. Soprano and alto share the treble stave (soprano stems up, alto stems down). Tenor and bass share the bass stave (tenor up, bass down).
- Ranges: soprano C4-G5, alto G3-D5, tenor C3-G4, bass E2-D4. Keep inside them.
- Spacing: no more than an octave between soprano and alto, or between alto and tenor. The tenor and bass can be further apart.
- A triad has three notes but there are four parts, so one note is doubled. In root position, double the root. Always include the 3rd. Never double the leading note.

Worked example

Write chord V in C major, root position, in four parts.

1. V is G-B-D, with G in the bass.
2. Double the root, G. Never double B, the leading note.
3. Soprano D5, alto G4, tenor B3, bass G2: all in range, and no gap of more than an octave between soprano-alto or alto-tenor.

Watch out for

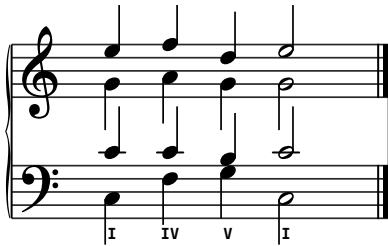

- Alto and tenor more than an octave apart.
- Doubling the 3rd of V (the leading note).
- Tenor written in the treble stave.

In the exam: In question 1 you write the soprano, alto and tenor above a given bass.

Show him these cards

1

Four parts: soprano and alto on the treble stave, tenor and bass on the bass stave. Soprano and tenor stems go up, alto and bass stems go down.

2

Ranges: soprano C4-G5, alto G3-D5, tenor C3-G4, bass E2-D4.

3

Spacing: no more than an octave between soprano and alto, or alto and tenor. The bass can be further from the tenor.

4

Doubling: a triad has three notes but there are four parts. In root position, double the root. Always include the 3rd. Never double the leading note.

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

- Write I, IV, V and I in G major in four parts, checking range, spacing and doubling for each chord.
- Use the Figured bass game together: the soprano is given, add the alto and tenor.

Four questions to work through together

1. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (F major)

The image shows a musical score for Soprano and Figured Bass in F major, 4/4 time. The Soprano part is on a treble clef staff with a key signature of one flat (Bb) and a 4/4 time signature. It contains four measures: a quarter note G4, a quarter note A4, a quarter note Bb4, and a half note C5. The Figured Bass part is on a bass clef staff with the same key signature and time signature. It contains four measures: a quarter note F3, a quarter note G3, a quarter note A3, and a half note Bb3. The bass line ends with a double bar line.

Answer: Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I – II – V – I.

Day 6: Moving between chords: no consecutive 5ths or octaves

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: "Consecutive 5ths and octaves make two parts sound like one, so the harmony loses its richness. Examiners always look for them, so we check every pair, every time."

- Good part-writing moves each part as little as possible. Keep any note the two chords share (a common note) in the same part, and move the others to the nearest note.
- Two parts may not move in 5ths (or octaves) one after another. That's 'consecutive 5ths' or 'consecutive octaves'. They make the parts sound like one, and they're the most common mistake in the exam.
- To check: for each pair of chords, compare every pair of parts (six pairs: S-A, S-T, S-B, A-T, A-B, T-B). If the same pair is a 5th apart (or an octave) in both chords and the parts move, it's a mistake. Compound 5ths and octaves (12ths, 15ths) count too.
- Contrary motion (one part up, the other down) is the safest way to avoid them, especially between the soprano and the bass.

Worked example

Check IV to V in C major: soprano A4-G4, alto F4-D4, tenor C4-B3, bass F3-G3.

1. The bass goes up; the upper parts go down: contrary motion.
2. Check S-B: F3 up to A4 (a 10th) becomes G3 up to G4 (an octave). Fine: only one octave.
3. Check T-B: F-C (a 5th) becomes G-B (a 3rd). Fine. No consecutives.

Watch out for

- Only checking soprano and bass.
- Fixing one consecutive and creating another.

In the exam: Any consecutive 5th or octave in question 1 loses marks.

Show him these cards

1

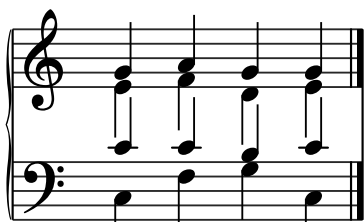

Move each part to the nearest note. If two chords share a note, keep it in the same part.

2

Consecutive 5ths: two parts a 5th apart, then a 5th apart again (here soprano and bass: F-C, then G-D). Same with octaves. They're the most common mistake.

3

Check six pairs every time: S-A, S-T, S-B, A-T, A-B, T-B.

4

Contrary motion (one part up, another down), especially soprano against bass, is the best way to avoid them.

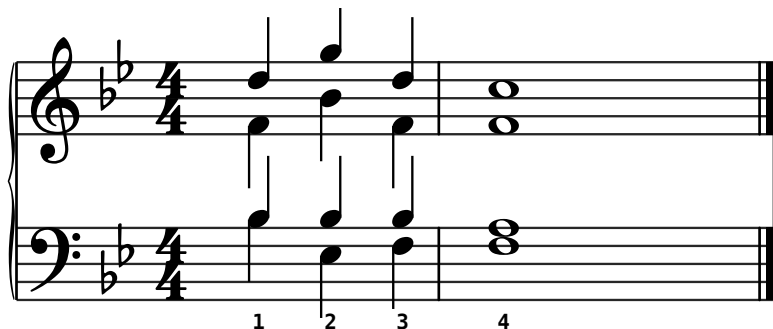

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

- Connect I-IV-V-I in two keys, keeping common notes.
- Hunt for 5ths and octaves in the two examples in the lesson pack.

Four questions to work through together

1. This four-part passage is in B $\flat$ major. What is wrong with it?

- A. A chord has no 3rd B. Consecutive octaves C. Consecutive 5ths D. The leading note doesn't rise to the tonic

Answer: Consecutive 5ths. Chords 1-2: consecutive 5ths between alto and bass (B $\flat$ -F to E $\flat$ -B $\flat$).

2. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (F major)

Answer: Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I – VI – V – I.

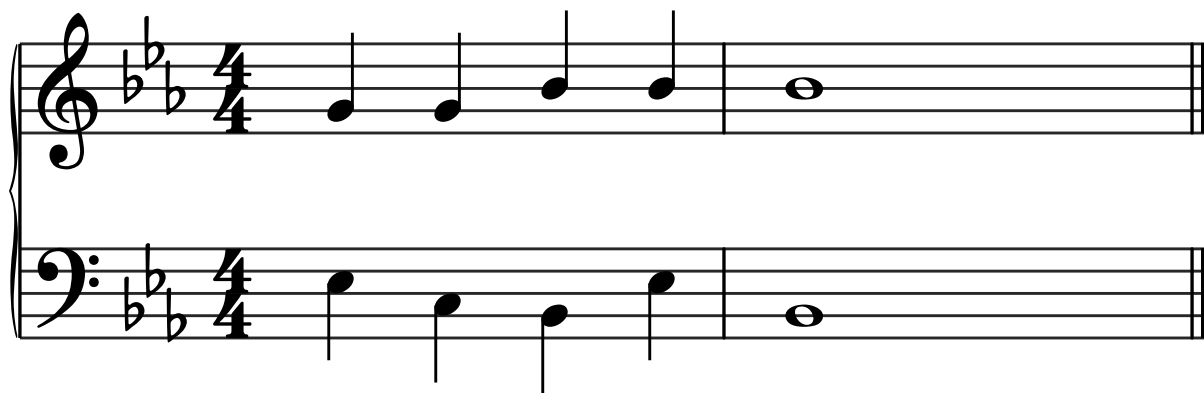

I VI V I

3. This four-part passage is in A $\flat$ major. What is wrong with it?

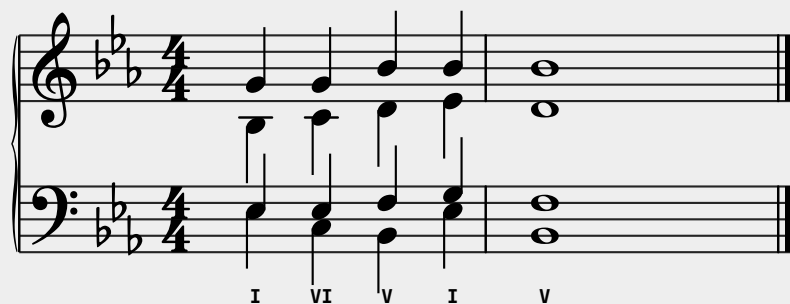

- A. Nothing is wrong B. The leading note doesn't rise to the tonic C. The leading note is doubled D. Consecutive octaves

Answer: Consecutive octaves. Chords 3-4: consecutive octaves between tenor and bass (Eb to Ab).

4. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (E $\flat$ major)

Day 7: Cadences in four parts

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: “Cadences are musical punctuation: perfect is a full stop, imperfect a comma, interrupted a surprise, and plagal the Amen at the end of a hymn.”

- A cadence is the pair of chords at the end of a phrase.
- Perfect: V-I (or V7-I), both in root position. It sounds finished.
- Imperfect: any chord going to V. It sounds like a comma.
- Plagal: IV-I. The 'Amen' ending.
- Interrupted: V-VI. You expect I and get VI instead. In VI after V, double the 3rd of VI so the leading note can rise and there are no consecutive 5ths.
- At a perfect cadence the leading note in the soprano must rise to the tonic.

Worked example

Why double the 3rd in V-VI?

1. In C major: V is G-B-D, VI is A-C-E.
2. The leading note B must rise to C, and the 7th degree should avoid jumping.
3. If the other parts also moved to A and E, you'd risk consecutive 5ths with the bass. Doubling C (the 3rd of VI) avoids them.

Watch out for

- Writing V-I with the leading note falling in the soprano.
- Calling IV-V a plagal cadence: it's imperfect.

In the exam: Score questions ask you to name cadences; question 2 asks you to choose chords, especially at cadence points.

Show him these cards

1

Perfect cadence: V-I. It sounds finished.

2

Imperfect: anything to V. It sounds like a comma.

3

Plagal: IV-I, the 'Amen'.

4

Interrupted: V-VI. You expect I but get VI. In VI, double the 3rd.

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

2. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (G major)

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

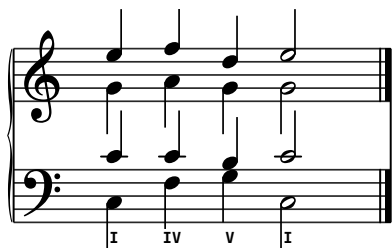

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: "First inversions make the bass line flow. IIb-V-I is one of the most used chord patterns in all music."

- A first-inversion chord (6/3, figured 6) has its 3rd in the bass. It's lighter than root position, and lets the bass move by step.
- Doubling in 6/3 chords: don't double the bass if it's the leading note (Vb). In major chords, double the root or 5th rather than the bass. In IIb, doubling the bass (the subdominant note) is normal and sounds good.
- IIb-V-I is the most useful approach to a perfect cadence. Ib often replaces I in the middle of a phrase.

Worked example

Realise I-IIb-V-I in G major.

1. The bass: G, C (IIb has C in the bass), D, G.
2. IIb is A-C-E with C doubled.
3. Keep the parts smooth and check for consecutives at each step.

Watch out for

- Doubling the leading note in Vb.
- Writing II in root position in a minor key (it's diminished).

In the exam: Figures of 6 are everywhere in question 1.

Show him these cards

1

2

First inversion (6/3, figured 6): the 3rd is in the bass. It's lighter, and lets the bass move by step.

Don't double the bass of a first inversion if it's the leading note (Vb). In major chords, double the root or 5th.

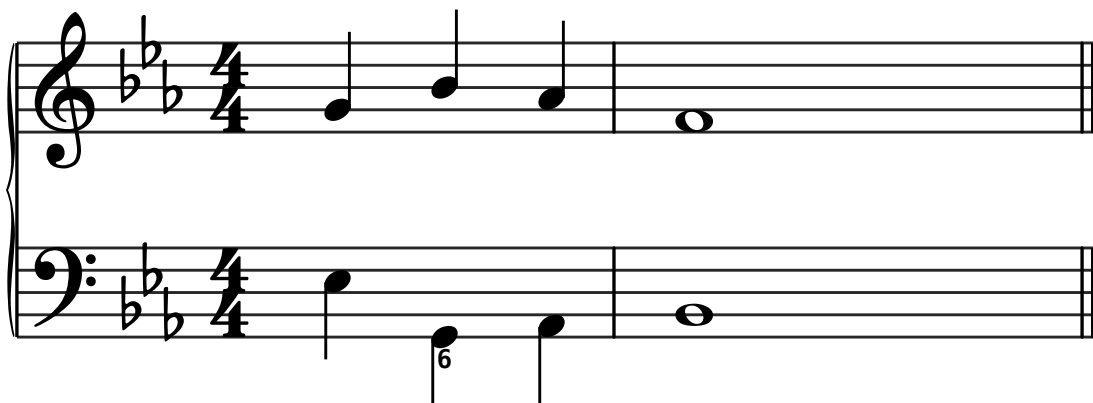

IIb is special: double its bass (the 4th note of the scale). IIb-V-I is the best approach to a perfect cadence.

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

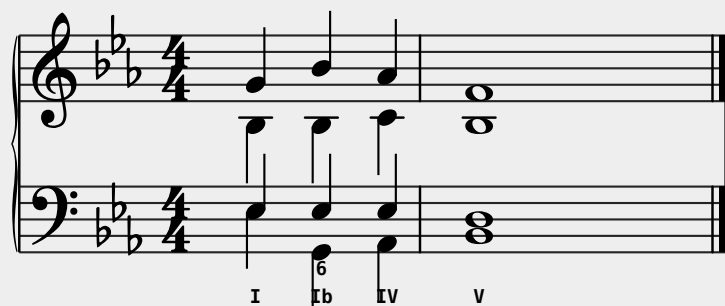

- Write I-IIb-V-I and I-Ib-IV-V-I in D major.
- Use Name the chord to spot first inversions in a passage.

Four questions to work through together

Day 10: The cadential 6/4: Ic-V

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: "Ic-V is like a big breath before the end. The bass stays on the dominant while the upper parts lean and then settle."

- Ic (6/4 in the bass) is the second inversion of I. Its strongest use: Ic-V at a cadence, called the cadential 6/4.
- It comes on a strong beat and the bass stays on the dominant note for both chords: figures 6/4 then 5/3. The 6th falls to the 5th and the 4th falls to the 3rd.
- Double the bass note in a 6/4 chord.
- Ic must go to V. Never leave a 6/4 hanging.

Worked example

Write IIb-Ic-V-I in D major.

1. Bass: G (IIb), A, A, D.
2. Ic is D-F#-A over A: double the A.
3. 6 to 5 and 4 to 3 over the A, then V to I.

Watch out for

- Ic going anywhere but V.
- Putting Ic on a weak beat at a cadence.

In the exam: Figures 6/4 followed by 5/3 over the same bass note mean a cadential 6/4.

Show him these cards

1

The cadential 6/4: Ic then V, with the bass on the dominant for both.

2

The 6th falls to the 5th and the 4th falls to the 3rd. It comes on a strong beat.

3

Double the bass note in a 6/4 chord. And Ic must ALWAYS go to V.

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

- Write IIb-Ic-V-I in G major and A minor.
- Find the cadential 6/4s in two passages in the lesson pack.

Four questions to work through together

1. Which chords fit the last 2 melody notes (A, B) and make an imperfect cadence? (E major)

A. V - VI

B. V - V

C. I - V

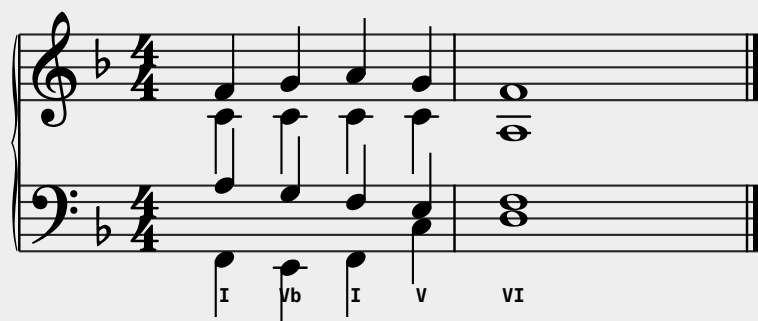

D. VI - VI

Answer: I - V. The melody notes are E, D#. I (E-G#-B) contains E; V (B-D#-F#) contains D#. The wrong answers each have a chord without its melody note.

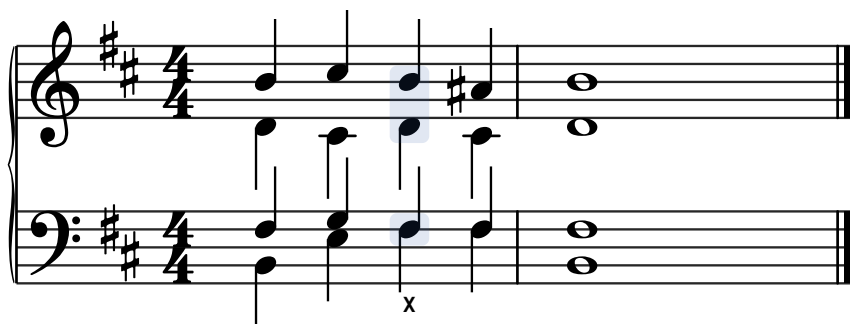

2. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (F major)

Answer: Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I - Vb - I - V - VI.

3. This passage is in B minor. Name the chord marked X.

A. V

B. VIIb

C. IIb

D. Ic

Answer: Ic. X is B-D-F# with F# in the bass: Ic (second inversion).

4. Which chords fit the last 2 melody notes (A, B) and make a plagal cadence? (A $\flat$ major)

A. V - II

B. IV - I

C. VI - I

D. V - V

Answer: IV - I. The melody notes are D $\flat$, C. IV (D $\flat$ -F-A $\flat$) contains D $\flat$; I (A $\flat$ -C-E $\flat$) contains C. The wrong answers each have a chord without its melody note.

Day 11: Passing and pedal 6/4 chords

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 • TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: “There are only three good reasons for a 6/4 chord: a cadence, a passing bass, or a pedal bass. If none of these, change the chord.”

- Two more 6/4 chords appear in exam scores.
- Passing 6/4: the bass moves by step through the 5th of a chord, for example I-Vc-Ib (bass C-D-E). The 6/4 is on a weak beat.
- Pedal (auxiliary) 6/4: the bass stays still while the upper parts move to IVc and back: I-IVc-I.
- The dominant 7th also has a passing inversion: I-V7c-Ib.
- In each case the 6/4 is a passing effect, never the main chord.

Worked example

Which kind of 6/4 is IVc between two I chords with the bass on C?

1. The bass doesn't move.
2. The upper parts move up and back.
3. So it's a pedal (auxiliary) 6/4.

Watch out for

- Using a 6/4 chord on its own, with no reason.
- Confusing passing and cadential 6/4s.

In the exam: Score questions sometimes ask what kind of 6/4 a chord is.

Show him these cards

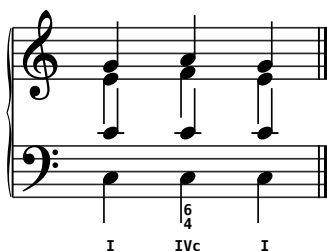

1

Passing 6/4: the bass walks by step through it. I-Vc-Ib: bass C-D-E.

2

Pedal 6/4: the bass stays still while the chord above changes and comes back: I-IVc-I.

3

The dominant 7th has a passing inversion too: I-V7c-Ib.

3 • DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

- Write I-Vc-Ib and I-IVc-I in F major.

Day 13: The dominant 7th and its inversions

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: "The 7th makes V even more eager to go home. The rule is simple: the leading note goes up, the 7th goes down."

- V7 adds a 7th above the root of V: in C major G-B-D-F.
- Inversions and figures: V7 (7), V7b (6/5), V7c (4/3), V7d (4/2).
- Two notes need care: the leading note rises to the tonic, and the 7th falls by step (F to E in C major). The one exception: in the passing progression I-V7c-Ib the 7th may rise with the bass.
- In root position you may leave out the 5th and double the root. In inversions use all four notes.
- V7d has the 7th in the bass, so the bass falls to Ib.

Worked example

V7d resolves to which chord?

1. V7d has the 7th (F in C major) in the bass.
2. The 7th falls by step: F to E.
3. E in the bass under a C chord: Ib.

Watch out for

- The 7th leaping or rising.
- Doubling the 7th.

In the exam: Figures 7, 6/5, 4/3 and 4/2 all show a dominant 7th.

Show him these cards

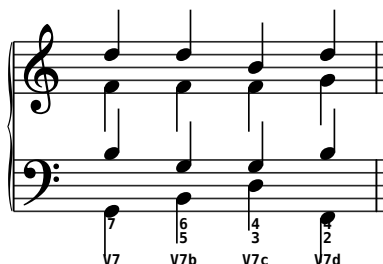

1

V7 adds a 7th to chord V: G-B-D-F in C major.

2

Inversions: V7 (7), V7b (6/5), V7c (4/3), V7d (4/2).

3

The leading note rises to the tonic. The 7th falls by step (except in the passing I-V7c-Ib, where it may rise).

In root position you may leave out the 5th and double the root. In inversions, use all four notes.

A musical score for the song "The Rose Tree". The score is written for piano in 4/4 time, featuring a treble and bass staff. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The melody is primarily in the treble staff, with the bass staff providing a simple harmonic accompaniment. Day 14: The supertonic 7th: II7b and the full cadence

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: "II7b is the chord that says 'here comes the end'. Hear how it leads into Ic and V."

- II7 adds a 7th to chord II: in C major D-F-A-C. It's mostly used in first inversion, II7b (6/5), with the subdominant in the bass.
- II7b leads to V or to Ic-V. Its 7th (C in C major) falls by step, or is held into Ic and then falls.
- The full cadence progression: II7b-Ic-V(7)-I is a favourite in the exam.

Worked example

In G major, what are the notes of II7b?

1. II is A-C-E; add the 7th: G.
2. First inversion puts C in the bass.
3. Above the bass C: E is a 3rd, G a 5th and A a 6th, so the figures are 6/5 (the 3 is understood).

Watch out for

- Forgetting to resolve the 7th.
- Writing II7 in root position in a minor key.

In the exam: 6/5 over the subdominant before a cadence usually means II7b.

Show him these cards

1

II7 adds a 7th to chord II: D-F-A-C in C major. It's usually in first inversion: II7b (6/5), with F in the bass.

2

3

II7b-Ic-V-I is a favourite cadence pattern.

3 · DO TOGETHER (10 MIN)

- Write II7b-V-I and II7b-Ic-V-I in D major and B minor.

Four questions to work through together

1. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (D major)

Answer: Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I - Ib - IV - V - VI.

2. Which chords fit the last 2 melody notes (A, B) and make a perfect cadence? (E minor)

A. IIb - V7

B. VI - Ic

C. V - I

D. V7 - V

Answer: V - I. The melody notes are B, G. V (B-D#-F#) contains B; I (E-G-B) contains G. The wrong answers each have a chord without its melody note.

3. Add the alto and tenor parts. The soprano and the figured bass are given. (C major)

Answer: Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I – II – V – I.

4. Name the cadence at the end of this passage in F minor.

A. perfect

Day 15: Harmony in minor keys

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: “In minor keys the raised leading note is like a magnet pulling to the tonic. Write its accidental every single time.”

- Minor-key harmony uses the harmonic minor: V and V7 are major because the leading note is raised. Write the raised leading note with an accidental every time; it's not in the key signature.
- Watch out for the augmented 2nd: between the 6th note and the raised 7th (A $\flat$ to B $\sharp$ in C minor). Don't move a part by that interval.
- II is diminished in minor, so use IIb. VI is major, and V-VI (interrupted) is common.
- In V-VI, double the 3rd of VI to avoid consecutives and the augmented 2nd.

Worked example

In A minor, IV goes to V. The alto has F. Where should it go?

1. V is E-G $\sharp$ -B.
2. F to G $\sharp$ is an augmented 2nd: not allowed.
3. Move the alto down to E instead, and give G $\sharp$ to another part.

Watch out for

- Forgetting the raised leading note (and its accidental).
- Augmented 2nds between the 6th and 7th notes.

In the exam: At least one question in the paper is likely to be in a minor key.

Show him these cards

1

Minor keys use the harmonic minor: V and V7 are major because the leading note is raised. It needs an accidental every time.

2

II is diminished, so use IIb. VI is major. V-VI is common: double the 3rd of VI.

Day 16: Realising a figured bass: the exam method

Harmony · about 40 minutes: warm-up 5 · teach 10 · together 10 · on his own 12 · game 3

1 · WARM-UP (5 MIN)

Today's practice in Philip's corner, or the first two 'together' questions below.

2 · TEACH (10 MIN)

Say: “A method makes it calm: chords first, then the tune on top, then the middle parts, then check. Never skip the checking.”

- The exam gives a bass line with figures and asks for the upper parts.
- Step 1: under each bass note, work out the chord from the figures and write its Roman numeral in pencil.
- Step 2: plan the soprano line first: mostly stepwise, a clear shape, ending on the tonic at a perfect cadence.
- Step 3: fill in the alto and tenor, keeping common notes and moving by step.
- Step 4: check every pair of chords for consecutive 5ths and octaves, then the leading note and any 7ths.
- In the exam you may write in four parts (SATB) or in keyboard style: three notes in the right hand on the treble stave (within an octave), the bass alone in the left hand. Same chords, same rules. From today some figured basses in the app are keyboard style.

Worked example

Realise: bass C-F-G-C, figures blank, 6, 7, blank (C major).

1. C: I. F with 6: F-A-D = IIb. G with 7: V7. C: I.
2. Soprano: for example E-D-D-C, a line that moves well and ends on the tonic.
3. Fill alto and tenor; check: the 7th (F) falls to E, the leading note B rises to C.

Watch out for

- Writing the parts before working out the chords.
- Not checking at the end.
- In keyboard style, spreading the right hand wider than an octave, or forgetting that the top note is still the tune.

In the exam: Question 1 is worth 15 marks; aim for complete, correct chords before anything fancy. It may ask for four parts (SATB) or keyboard style: the app gives both from Day 16.
