MARKING KEY (FOR MUM)

1. Q1 · 15m Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I - V7b - I - V7b - I - V7 - I.

I V7b I V7b I V7 I

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

2. Q2 · 15m One good answer: I - IVb - V - I - Vb - I - IV - I.

I IVb V I Vb I IV I

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

3. Q3 · 20m Mark with the checklist (10 points × 2 marks).

1. 8 bars, and every bar adds up to the time signature
2. Two balanced phrases, with a clear cadence at bar 4
3. The opening's rhythm or shape comes back (repeat, sequence or a variation)
4. It modulates clearly (a new accidental, or in a minor key cancelling the raised 7th to reach the relative major) and comes back home
5. A clear high point, and a good shape: mostly steps with some leaps
6. It ends on the tonic, on a strong beat
7. It stays in the instrument's range and suits the instrument
8. A tempo marking (an Italian term is fine)
9. Dynamics, including at least one change
10. Phrasing slurs and some articulation (staccato, accents, tenuto)

One model answer:

Andantino

1. Bars 3–4 climb by step and hold D, the dominant, on the downbeat: an imperfect cadence.
2. Bars 5–6 use F $\sharp$ (no F $\sharp$) and rise to B $\flat$ on the downbeat of bar 6: the relative major, and the high point.
3. Bar 7 brings back F $\sharp$ to return to G minor.
4. Bar 8: G, the tonic.
5. Performance directions: a tempo word (Andantino), a quiet start, a crescendo to the high point, slurs over each phrase, and some staccato or accents where they suit the oboe.

This is one good answer, not the only one. Compare yours: is the plan the same even if the notes are different?

4. Q4 · 3m D: Vb. At X the four instruments play E, G, C, G (cello upwards): C–E–G with E in the bass, so Vb.
5. Q4 · 3m A: root. The chord at X is II (D–F–A). The Cello plays D, the root.
6. Q4 · 3m B: $\sharp 6/4/3$. The chord is V7c (E–G $\sharp$ –B–D) with B in the bass. Count up from the bass: $\sharp 6/4/3$.
7. Q4 · 3m C: plagal. The last two chords are IV and I: IV–I is a plagal cadence.
8. Q4 · 3m B: appoggiatura. An appoggiatura leans on the beat: it's a clash on the strong part of the beat that then falls (or rises) by step to the chord note.
9. Q4 · 3m D: major 13th. A up to F $\sharp$ is a major 13th (a compound major 6th: 13 letters counting both ends).
10. Q4 · 3m D: B $\flat$ major. It ends with a perfect cadence in B $\flat$ major: F–A–C then B $\flat$ –D–F. Look for the new accidental: A is the new key's leading note.
11. Q4 · 4m D: major 10th. Cello B up to violin I D $\sharp$: a major 10th.
12. Q5 · 3m A: bassoon and cello. The bassoon and cello have the same notes: the bass line.
13. Q5 · 3m A: bassoon and cello. The bassoon and cello have the same notes: the bass line.

14. Q5 · 3m C: G. A horn in F sounds a perfect 5th lower than written (horn parts are often written without a key signature). Its written note at Y sounds as G, the same note the viola has.
15. Q5 · 3m A: G. The trumpet in B $\flat$ sounds a major 2nd lower than written, so go DOWN a major 2nd: A sounds as G.
16. Q5 · 3m A: viola. Score order from the top: woodwind (flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon), brass (horn, trumpet, trombone, tuba), percussion (timpani first), then strings (violin I, violin II, viola, cello, double bass). So timpani comes above viola.
17. Q5 · 3m A: getting slower. slentando is Italian for "getting slower".
18. Q5 · 3m B: passing note. It fills the gap between two chord notes a 3rd apart, by step.
19. Q5 · 4m C: auxiliary note. An auxiliary note steps away from a chord note and comes straight back to it.

10. Q4 · 3m A: G major. It ends with a perfect cadence in G major: D-F $\sharp$ -A then G-B-D. Look for the new accidental: F $\sharp$ is the new key's leading note.

12. Q5 · 3m A: G. A B $\flat$ clarinet sounds a major 2nd (a tone) lower than written: written A sounds as G, the same note as violin II.
13. Q5 · 3m B: flute. The flute plays the violin I tune an octave higher all the way through.
14. Q5 · 3m B: flute. The flute plays the violin I tune an octave higher all the way through.

Question 1: Figured bass (15 marks)

15 marks

1. Realise this figured bass: add soprano, alto and tenor. (G major)

The musical notation for Question 1 consists of a grand staff with treble and bass clefs, key signature of one sharp (F#), and 4/4 time. The bass line contains a sequence of notes with figured bass figures: 6, 7, 6. The treble staff is empty for the student to write the soprano, alto, and tenor parts.

Question 2: Chords for a melody (15 marks)

15 marks

The musical notation for Question 2 consists of a single staff with treble clef, key signature of three flats (B $\flat$, E $\flat$, A $\flat$), and 4/4 time. The melody consists of 8 beats, each marked with a number from 1 to 8. The final beat (8) ends with a half note, indicating an interrupted cadence.

MARKING KEY (FOR MUM)

1. Q1 · 15m Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I - Ib - V - V7 - VI - IV - IIb - V.

I Ib V V7 VI IV IIb V

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

2. Q2 · 15m One good answer: I - II - V7 - VI - II - V7 - VI.

I II V7 VI II V7 VI

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

3. Q3 · 20m Mark with the checklist (10 points × 2 marks).

1. 8 bars, and every bar adds up to the time signature
2. Two balanced phrases, with a clear cadence at bar 4
3. The opening's rhythm or shape comes back (repeat, sequence or a variation)
4. It modulates clearly (a new accidental, or in a minor key cancelling the raised 7th to reach the relative major) and comes back home
5. A clear high point, and a good shape: mostly steps with some leaps
6. It ends on the tonic, on a strong beat
7. It stays in the instrument's range and suits the instrument
8. A tempo marking (an Italian term is fine)
9. Dynamics, including at least one change
10. Phrasing slurs and some articulation (staccato, accents, tenuto)

One model answer:

Andante espressivo

1. Bars 3–4 rise to C#, the leading note, held over chord V: an imperfect cadence.
2. Bars 5–6 fall by step to F on the downbeat of bar 6, with no C#: a cadence in F major, the relative major.
3. Bar 7 climbs to the high point (E4) and brings back C# to return to D minor.
4. Bar 8 ends on D, the tonic.
5. Performance directions: a tempo word (Andante espressivo), a quiet start, a crescendo to the high point, slurs over each phrase, and some staccato or accents where they suit the cello.

This is one good answer, not the only one. Compare yours: is the plan the same even if the notes are different?

4. Q4 · 3m D: 5th. The chord at X is I (E–G–B). The Violin I plays B, the 5th.
5. Q4 · 3m B: Eb. In alto clef, middle C is the middle line. Y is Eb.
6. Q4 · 3m D: V7. C# with "7 #" is V7: C#–E#–G#–B.
7. Q4 · 3m B: imperfect. The last two chords are Ib and V: ending on V is an imperfect cadence.
8. Q4 · 3m C: changing notes. Changing notes are a pair: one above and one below the chord note, before returning to it.
9. Q4 · 3m C: perfect 15th. B up to B is a perfect 15th (a compound perfect unison: 15 letters counting both ends).
10. Q4 · 3m D: C major. The subdominant key is built on note 4: C major.
11. Q4 · 4m B: it gets quieter (mf to pp). It starts mf and changes to pp at D.
12. Q5 · 3m B: it's a Bb instrument, so it's written a tone higher. The music sounds in Bb major, so the Bb clarinet is written a tone higher, in C major.

13. Q5 · 3m D: G. A B $\flat$ clarinet sounds a major 2nd (a tone) lower than written: written A sounds as G, the same note as violin II.
14. Q5 · 3m D: F. A B $\flat$ clarinet sounds a major 2nd (a tone) lower than written: written G sounds as F, the same note as violin II.
15. Q5 · 3m D: a major 2nd lower. The trumpet in B $\flat$ sounds a major 2nd lower than written.
16. Q5 · 3m B: F. The horn in F sounds a perfect 5th lower than written, so go DOWN a perfect 5th: C sounds as F.
17. Q5 · 3m A: swiftly. veloce is Italian for "swiftly".
18. Q5 · 3m B: 3rd. The chord at X is VI (D-F $\sharp$ -A). The Violin II plays F $\sharp$, the 3rd.
19. Q5 · 4m B: auxiliary note. An auxiliary note steps away from a chord note and comes straight back to it.

MARKING KEY (FOR MUM)

1. Q1 · 15m Model answer below (other good answers are possible): I - V7b - I - VI - IV - V - VI.

I V7b I VI IV V VI

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

2. Q2 · 15m One good answer: I - Vb - I - II7b - Ic - V7 - I.

I Vb I II7b Ic V7 I

Marking: start from 15. Take off 2 for each real mistake (a wrong chord or note, a missing 3rd, consecutive 5ths or octaves, a doubled leading note, an unresolved 7th or leading note). Take off 1 for weaker points (an awkward leap, a doubled 3rd).

3. Q3 · 20m Mark with the checklist (10 points × 2 marks).

1. 8 bars, and every bar adds up to the time signature
2. Two balanced phrases, with a clear cadence at bar 4
3. The opening's rhythm or shape comes back (repeat, sequence or a variation)
4. It modulates clearly (a new accidental, or in a minor key cancelling the raised 7th to reach the relative major) and comes back home
5. A clear high point, and a good shape: mostly steps with some leaps
6. It ends on the tonic, on a strong beat
7. It stays in the instrument's range and suits the instrument
8. A tempo marking (an Italian term is fine)
9. Dynamics, including at least one change
10. Phrasing slurs and some articulation (staccato, accents, tenuto)

One model answer:

Allegretto

1. Bars 3–4 answer the opening and stop on A, the dominant: an imperfect cadence.
2. Bar 5 climbs through C# and E to G#, the leading note of A major; bar 6 lands on A, the high point, on the downbeat: a cadence in the dominant.
3. Bar 7 brings back G#, which takes us home to D major.
4. Bar 8 ends on the tonic, D, on the first beat.
5. Performance directions: a tempo word (Allegretto), a quiet start, a crescendo to the high point, slurs over each phrase, and some staccato or accents where they suit the violin.

This is one good answer, not the only one. Compare yours: is the plan the same even if the notes are different?

4. Q4 · 3m D: V7. At X the four instruments play B, A, D#, F# (cello upwards): B–D#–F#–A with B in the bass, so V7.
5. Q4 · 3m C: at a walking pace, with movement. Andante con moto: at a walking pace, with movement.
6. Q4 · 3m B: I. X is A–C#–E with A in the bass: I (root position).
7. Q4 · 3m A: perfect. The last two chords are V and I: V–I is a perfect cadence.
8. Q4 · 3m B: changing notes. Changing notes are a pair: one above and one below the chord note, before returning to it.
9. Q4 · 3m B: perfect 12th. A up to E is a perfect 12th (a compound perfect 5th: 12 letters counting both ends).
10. Q4 · 3m C: E $\flat$ major. It ends with a perfect cadence in E $\flat$ major: B $\flat$ –D–F then E $\flat$ –G–B $\flat$. Look for the new accidental: D is the new key's leading note.
11. Q4 · 4m C: an Alberti bass. The left hand breaks each chord into the pattern low–high–middle–high.
12. Q5 · 3m B: bassoon and cello. The bassoon and cello have the same notes: the bass line.

13. Q5 · 3m B: G. A horn in F sounds a perfect 5th lower than written (horn parts are often written without a key signature). Its written note at Y sounds as G, the same note the viola has.
14. Q5 · 3m B: B. A horn in F sounds a perfect 5th lower than written (horn parts are often written without a key signature). Its written note at Y sounds as B, the same note the viola has.
15. Q5 · 3m B: G. The trumpet in B $\flat$ sounds a major 2nd lower than written, so write it UP a major 2nd: F is written as G.
16. Q5 · 3m D: a major 2nd lower. The clarinet in B $\flat$ sounds a major 2nd lower than written.
17. Q5 · 3m A: with the bow. arco is Italian for "with the bow".
18. Q5 · 3m D: D $\flat$ . In alto clef, middle C is the middle line. Y is D $\flat$.
19. Q5 · 4m D: auxiliary note. An auxiliary note steps away from a chord note and comes straight back to it.

2. Q2 · 15m One good answer: I - V - V7 - C: IV - Ic - V - I.

I V V7 C: IV Ic V I

8. A tempo marking (an Italian term is fine)
9. Dynamics, including at least one change
10. Phrasing slurs and some articulation (staccato, accents, tenuto)

One model answer:

Andante espressivo

1. Bars 3–4 rise to C#, the leading note, held over chord V: an imperfect cadence.
2. Bars 5–6 fall by step to F on the downbeat of bar 6, with no C#: a cadence in F major, the relative major.
3. Bar 7 climbs to the high point (E4) and brings back C# to return to D minor.
4. Bar 8 ends on D, the tonic.
5. Performance directions: a tempo word (Andante espressivo), a quiet start, a crescendo to the high point, slurs over each phrase, and some staccato or accents where they suit the cello.

This is one good answer, not the only one. Compare yours: is the plan the same even if the notes are different?

4. Q4 · 3m B: auxiliary note. It steps away from a chord note and comes straight back.
5. Q4 · 3m D: II7b. At X the four instruments play D, A, F, B (cello upwards): B–D–F–A with D in the bass, so II7b.
6. Q4 · 3m C: V7b. X is C#–E#–G#–B with E# in the bass: V7b (first inversion).
7. Q4 · 3m D: interrupted. The last two chords are V and VI: V–VI is an interrupted cadence.
8. Q4 · 3m B: changing notes. Changing notes are a pair: one above and one below the chord note, before returning to it.
9. Q4 · 3m D: minor 10th. G up to Bb is a minor 10th (a compound minor 3rd: 10 letters counting both ends).
10. Q4 · 3m D: B minor. It ends with a perfect cadence in B minor: F#–A#–C#–E then B–D–F#. Look for the new accidental: A# is the new key's leading note.
11. Q4 · 4m D: a hemiola. In 3/4, two bars are grouped as if they were three bars of 2/4: three minims across two bars, usually just before a cadence.
12. Q5 · 3m A: bassoon and cello. The bassoon and cello have the same notes: the bass line.

13. Q5 · 3m D: bassoon and cello. The bassoon and cello have the same notes: the bass line.
14. Q5 · 3m C: it's a B $\flat$ instrument, so it's written a tone higher. The music sounds in D major, so the B $\flat$ clarinet is written a tone higher, in E major.
15. Q5 · 3m B: flute. Score order from the top: woodwind (flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon), brass (horn, trumpet, trombone, tuba), percussion (timpani first), then strings (violin I, violin II, viola, cello, double bass). So flute comes above oboe.
16. Q5 · 3m B: tuba. Score order from the top: woodwind (flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon), brass (horn, trumpet, trombone, tuba), percussion (timpani first), then strings (violin I, violin II, viola, cello, double bass). So tuba comes above violin II.
17. Q5 · 3m B: slow. lento is Italian for "slow".
18. Q5 · 3m D: pluck the strings; arco means use the bow again. pizz. (pizzicato): pluck. arco: back to the bow.
19. Q5 · 4m C: appoggiatura. An appoggiatura leans on the beat: it's a clash on the strong part of the beat that then falls (or rises) by step to the chord note.
